Australia: Managing Diverse Ecosystems
Education Abroad Program
Winter Break 2020-2021

Have you thought about studying abroad in Australia, but haven’t found the right trip? CASNR has recently developed a second trip Down Under for students interested in wildlife, human dimensions, tourism, communications, and the environment.

Highlights of this trip will include:

• Great Barrier Reef
• Oldest rainforest in the world
• Boat cruise in the Southern ocean (seals and dolphins)
• New Year’s Eve fireworks and celebration on the water at Hobart
• Aboriginal history and culture
• Sydney bay, Bondi beach, and the Blue Mountains
• Tasmanian Devil Conservation Park (Tasmanian devils, kangaroos, wombats, and much more)

Applications due: April 2020

Informational Meetings
Thursday, Feb. 27 @ 5pm
Friday, Feb. 28 @ 3pm
Hardin Hall Rm 901

QUESTIONS?
Dr. Mark Burbach & Dr. Laura Young
mburbach@unl.edu or laura.young@unl.edu
Australia: Managing Diverse Ecosystems

Education Abroad Program
Winter Break 2020-2021

Have you thought about studying abroad in Australia, but haven’t found the right trip? CASNR has recently developed a second trip Down Under for students interested in wildlife, human dimensions, tourism, communications, and the environment.

Highlights of this trip will include:

- Great Barrier Reef
- Oldest rainforest in the world
- Boat cruise in the Southern ocean (seals and dolphins)
- New Year’s Eve fireworks and celebration on the water at Hobart
- Aboriginal history and culture
- Sydney bay, Bondi beach, and the Blue Mountains
- Tasmanian Devil Conservation Park (Tasmanian devils, kangaroos, wombats, and much more)

Applications due: April 2020

Informational Meetings
Thursday, Feb. 27 @ 5pm
Friday, Feb. 28 @ 3pm
Hardin Hall Rm 901

QUESTIONS?
Dr. Mark Burbach & Dr. Laura Young
mburbach@unl.edu or laura.young@unl.edu
Australia: Managing Diverse Ecosystems
Education Abroad Program
Winter Break 2020-2021

Have you thought about studying abroad in Australia, but haven’t found the right trip? CASNR has recently developed a second trip Down Under for students interested in wildlife, human dimensions, tourism, communications, and the environment.

Highlights of this trip will include:

- Great Barrier Reef
- Oldest rainforest in the world
- Boat cruise in the Southern ocean (seals and dolphins)
- New Year’s Eve fireworks and celebration on the water at Hobart
- Aboriginal history and culture
- Sydney bay, Bondi beach, and the Blue Mountains
- Tasmanian Devil Conservation Park (Tasmanian devils, kangaroos, wombats, and much more)

Applications due: April 2020

Informational Meetings
Thursday, Feb. 27 @ 5pm
Friday, Feb. 28 @ 3pm
Hardin Hall Rm 901

QUESTIONS?
Dr. Mark Burbach & Dr. Laura Young
mburbach@unl.edu or laura.young@unl.edu

Course Listing
NRES 492
Australia: Managing Diverse Ecosystems

Education Abroad Program
Winter Break 2020-2021

Have you thought about studying abroad in Australia, but haven’t found the right trip? CASNR has recently developed a second trip Down Under for students interested in wildlife, human dimensions, tourism, communications, and the environment.

Highlights of this trip will include:

- Great Barrier Reef
- Oldest rainforest in the world
- Boat cruise in the Southern ocean (seals and dolphins)
- New Year’s Eve fireworks and celebration on the water at Hobart
- Aboriginal history and culture
- Sydney bay, Bondi beach, and the Blue Mountains
- Tasmanian Devil Conservation Park (Tasmanian devils, kangaroos, wombats, and much more)

Applications due: April 2020

Informational Meetings
Thursday, Feb. 27 @ 5pm
Friday, Feb. 28 @ 3pm
Hardin Hall Rm 901

QUESTIONS?
Dr. Mark Burbach & Dr. Laura Young
mburbach@unl.edu or laura.young@unl.edu